

EURONAVAL confirms its leadership

EURONAVAL 2014 presents positive results for its 24th edition, with 24,655 professional visitors (*) from across the globe (100 countries from all five continents) and media coverage by 408 accredited journalists.

EURONAVAL recorded an 18% progression rate of attendance numbers in comparison with 20,699 professional visitors (*) in 2012

This year, 92 high-level official delegations from 70 countries, i.e. close to one out of every two maritime countries accepted France's invitation, as did international and European organisations; a sign of the credibility enjoyed by EURONAVAL and France's naval industry abroad.

The main political and military purchasing consultants, both French and from abroad, responsible for preparing tomorrow's navies, came in force to visit the 15,000 square metres of exhibition space and to meet the 355 exhibiting companies, representing naval industries from 28 different countries. At EURONAVAL, they were presented with the best of the latest high-performance materials and skills in the naval defence and maritime security-safety sectors.

The rates of satisfaction expressed by official delegations and by exhibitors and visitors reinforce the success of this edition and confirm EURONAVAL's position as leading international exhibition, providing the most comprehensive offer in the world in terms of naval defence, maritime security and safety.

The EURONAVAL team would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who contributed to the success and promotion of the exhibition and look forward to seeing exhibitors and visitors at the 25th edition, which will take place in Paris from the 24th to 28th of October 2016.

() Figures for 2014 and 2012 conform to the new certified accounting method applied to the EURONAVAL exhibition starting this year.*