

CSR CHARTER

SUMMARISING SERVICE PROVIDERS' CSE COMMITMENTS FOR THE ORGANISATION OF THE EURONAVAL 2016 EXHIBITION

To company:
For consultation:

Trade platform and think-tank, Euronaval has been the key international event in the field of naval defence and maritime safety-security since 1968. In view of the sustainable development issues raised by its activities, SOGENA wishes to reinforce its action with regard to Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), and particularly by meeting the requirements of the ISO 20 121 standard. To this end, SOGENA is structuring its CSR policy around 3 transversal objectives in order to optimise the environmental and societal impacts incurred by the preparation, construction and animation of the exhibition.

As a service provider, your participation in the exhibition directly contributes to Euronaval's CSR policy. When you replied to the consultation launched by SOGENA, you made specific CSR commitments applicable to your services during the Euronaval exhibition. In accordance with the requirements of the ISO 20 121 standard, the objective of the present CSR charter is to ensure your CSR commitments are monitored and also to evaluate the overall performance of the exhibition.

Therefore, your CSR commitments will be integrated into the exhibition management system. Consequently, , you must supply all the information required to justify these actions and their performance, if not previously supplied during the consultation:
